High Quality Learning and Teaching

At BCIS, high-quality learning and teaching begins with our mission and is a responsive partnership that involves all members of the learning community.

Challenge

Learning and teaching is personalised, developmentally appropriate, collaborative, and allows for transfer of knowledge and skills into authentic contexts.

Empower

Learning and teaching is intentional, concept-based, agentic, and cross-disciplinary to foster critical and creative thinking.

EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

At the Early Childhood Center (ECC) we use investigative PLAY-BASED approaches as the foundation for learning. Reflecting the philosophies of leading early childhood theorists, young children learn best when they are engaged in experiences of self-discovery and can interact freely with the environment, their peers and teachers. The ECC faculty use the PYP framework to deliver a curriculum which meets these goals and nurtures the strong, meaningful development of our early years students in our state-of-the-art facilities.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Our Elementary School (ES) curriculum nurtures curiosity and empowers students to have voice and choice in their learning. Meaningful learning takes place when connections are made to personal experiences and build upon prior knowledge and understanding. We place emphasis on the learning of concepts, skills and dispositions, developing knowledge and fostering responsibility. Combining the PYP and our school mission, our ES INQUIRY-BASED approach unlocks students' potential and allows students to explore possibilities with a strong future focus.

We offer the International Baccalaureate (IB) Primary Years Programme (PYP), Middle Years Programme (MYP) and Diploma Programme (DP), and the bespoke BCIS IDEATE Diploma. All graduates also receive the BCIS High School Diploma.

Inspires

Learning and teaching allows for self-directed inquiry that presents opportunities for learners to take meaningful action for the good of all in an ever-changing world.

Our Secondary School (SS) learning model develops critical and creative thinkers, connected learners and purposeful doers. We achieve this by empowering students' initiative, encouraging learning by doing, prioritizing social and emotional learning and reinforcing knowledge, concepts and context. This approach allows students to seek out their own personal learning pathways, meet personalized challenges and demonstrate success in a variety of ways. Through the IMPACT-BASED approach to learning adopted in MYP, DP and IDEATE, students are equipped with the competencies and capabilities needed to adapt, thrive and contribute in an uncertain future.

Compassion

Learning and teaching is inclusive and supports the academic, social-emotional development and well-being of the whole learner.

Learning is further enhanced through a wide variety of exploratory, passion and skills-focused ENRICHMENT activities. Mostly student-led initiatives supported by dedicated staff, enrichment activities include service opportunities, leadership development, entrepreneurialism, the arts and media, as well as an extensive sports teams program. BCIS is a member of three provincial and national sports conferences and competes regularly in local and national fixtures.

Alumni

We CELEBRATE the SUCCESS of our graduating classes, who receive offers from leading universities all around the world, the global BCIS alumni network maintains strong connections with our BCIS community.

Beijing was home for me for the twelve most formative years in my life and BCIS was really very much an extension of that love and that feeling of connectedness. One of the reasons that I became a student of linguistics, and I am going to pursue that at PhD doctoral level, is because I really learnt the intricacies of language through Mandarin and other language heritages and I saw how beautiful the expressions of art, culture and different languages could be.

Yasmine, Class of 2018, majored in Linguistics & Global Studies at University of California, Berkeley (USA), Fulbright Scholar and English Philology Lecturer at Tbilisi State University (Georgia), currently pursuing MSc in International Development Management at The London School of Economics and Political Science (UK).

If I had to describe BCIS in one word it would be “diverse”. In the 8 years I spent here, not only were the people around me from diverse cultures, but the interests that BCIS nurtured and encouraged us to pursue were also diverse. One minute I was a musical performer, singing my original songs onstage in front of the whole school. The next minute I was furiously reading book after book to answer the legal questions I’ve been pondering. It is under this creative and artistic, yet academically stimulating environment, that I learned to balance music and law as inextricable parts of my identity.

Qinglan, Class of 2022, majoring in Law at University of Cambridge (UK).

Follow your passion!! My life in Beijing was characterized by a sea of opportunities. In Germany, I left behind a school with no-one standing out, BCIS felt more like a family. Taking a risk, project planning, working with mentors, and collaborating with others - these kinds of experiences helped me to realize that I could do things. Since leaving BCIS I’ve pursued my passion in aviation. Having recently graduated with an MBA from Stanford University, I will focus the next chapter of my career on developing battery systems to decarbonize and propel a new era of aviation, to revolutionize the way we power the skies.

Thilo, Class of 2012, majored in Aeronautical Engineering at Imperial College London (UK), and MBA and MS in CleanTech at Stanford University (USA), recipient of Stanford Impact Founder Fellowship and co-founder of aviation start-up “And Battery Aero”.
